

I support RM-10785. All amateurs, regardless of class, deserve the opportunity to participate on all bands, and use all modes of operation, without restrictions. Higher classes probably deserve additional band spectrum as a reward or incentive for advanced study. No governmental agency (or the ARRL) should prohibit the participation of Technician class amateurs from legally using portions of the HF bands with appropriate modes of operation. Terrence Glass, N0YXE